Knights of Pythias Hold District Meeting; Membership Enlistment Program Launched

GRAND CHANCELLOR VISITS LOCAL LODGE

LOCAL KNIGHTS ENGAGE IN MEMBERSHIP ENLISTMENT CAMPAIGN

Inspired by the presence of Grand Chancellor L. S. Lacey and former Grand Chancellor, Chas. Baughman the Knights of Pythias in the district including Cameron, Rockdale, Caldwell, Lott and other towns, have begun an enlistment campaign for Pythianism in this district that bids fair to exceed all previous propagation of Pythian influence in this section of Texas.

The meeting at which the enlistment campaign was begun was held in the Castle Hall of Milam Lodge No. 125 at Cameron Monday night and the district gathering enlisted the attendance of Pythians from a number of surrounding lodges.

A feature of this meeting was the address of the Grand Chancellor L. S. Lacey in bringing his message of greeting to the Brother Knights and outlining his ambition for a greater spread of Pythianism in Texas.

Mr. Lacey left Monday night for his home in Dennison but former chancellor Braughman will be in the district for two weeks. Tonight in Caldwell a district meeting will be held and on next Monday night the Knights will meet with San Gabriel Lodge at Rockdale. The Cameron team will be asked to exemplify the Rank of Knight and chancellor commander Earl K. Adrian is making preparation for the meeting there.

The meeting here on Monday night brought into association a number of Pythians who have been active in the work of the order for a number of years, including such men as the grand chancellor and the former grand chancellor; M. G. Cox, W. O. Triggs, W. G. Gillis and W. W. Chambers of Cameron; John M. Weed, chancellor commander at Rockdale; C. H. Moore, district deputy grand chancellor at Waco; and others.

The entertainment committee composed of Jake Posey, Lee R. Clore and Chas. McGehee prepared and served a delicious sandwich and liquid refreshment course at the close of the lodge session.

After the lodge had been opened and the preliminary business dispensed, the chancellor commander, Earl K. Adrian, gave over the hour to the fine spirits who had gathered for the occasion and the addresses placed emphasis on the fellowship of Pythians and the great principles of the order.

M. G. Cox, district deputy grand chancellor for this district, made the address of welcome to the grand chancellor Baughman will be in the district, an ardent Pythian for many years, gave in his own eloquent way a cordial welcome to all.

SELF SERVE GROCERY FOR DOBBINS STORE

CASH AND CARRY STORE TO OPEN HERE ON SEPTEMBER 1st SAYS DOBBINS

J. D. Dobbins will operate a Self Serve cash and carry grocery on and after September 1.

The grocery store of Mr. Dobbins is now being remodeled to begin the operation of a cash store after September 1.

"By selling for cash and eliminating the credit system I will be able to save my customers money and I take pleasure in announcing that on and after September 1 my grocery in Cameron, for many years a leader in value giving will be operated as a cash and carry store."

This will give Cameron three cash and carry stores, one of which is the Piggly Wiggly. Cameron is coming to the front as a modern merchandising center.

METHODIST TO VISIT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

REV. L. J. POWER TO PREACH AT JOINT SERVICE SUNDAY NIGHT

Rev. L. J. Power, pastor of the First Methodist church will preach at the Presbyterian church on Sunday as a return courtesy for the recent appearance in the Methodist pulpit by the brilliant pastor of the Presbyterian congregation, Rev. H. G. Kenney.

At the Methodist church Sunday morning, according to Dr. Power an unusually large crowd attended Sunday School as well as the preaching services at both hours Sunday. The pastor preached at both services.

The Methodist and Presbyterian churches will meet in a union service Sunday night and the general public is invited to attend the services.

The Presbyterian church let the contract Wednesday for the construction of a new church building.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pollard had as their guest Sunday evening her mother, Mrs. J. M. McCandless of Mangum, Okla., and her brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McCandless of Dallas and a sister and her husband Mr. and Mrs. George Byars of Temple.

The meeting, W. W. Chambers delivered a short talk to the visitors. Included in the program of speech making were W. G. Gillis, C. H. Moore of Waco; C. C. Nelms of Caldwell; E. L. Tucker of Austin; F. B. Cable, J. P. Love, Jake L. Posey, J. B. White and others.

Grand Chancellor Lacey brought a heartfelt message to the members, outlining the program for the year. His address set in motion an effort that finds local Pythians this week enlisting a number of new members and making plans for arousing the Pythian spirit all over this district.

The grand chancellor and former chancellors for membership.

It was a great, inspirational meeting with Pythianism manifest in the relations of good fellowship. Fred Henry, keeper of record and seal, who is absent by leave from the lodge and is now in Mineral Wells, was praised by the former grand chancellor.

In the course of the meeting M. G. Cox read a poem by Helen Hunt Jackson as a compliment to the Grand Chancellor Lacey, as expressing the ideals of Pythianism. The poem follows:

Life's Aim
If I can live.

To make some pale face brighter and to give

A second luster to some tear-dimmed eye

Or e'en impart

One throeb of comfort to an aching heart,

Or cheer some wayworn soul in passing by;

If I can lend

A strong hand to the fallen, or defend

The right against a single envious strain

My life though bare,

Perhaps, of much that seemeth dear and fair

To us of earth, will not have been in vain.

The purest joy

Most near to heaven, far from earth's alloy,

Is bidding cloud give way to sun and shine;

And 'twill be well.

If on that day of days the angels tell

Of me, she did her best for one of Thine.

—Helen Hunt Jackson.

Visitors who registered at the meeting are: John M. Weed, chancellor commander and Walter Dean of Rockdale; J. C. Sarrazen, Bradon Adkins, Joe Hailey, N. D. Rutherford, Henry Morgan and P. P. Hemphill of Lott; C. H. Moore and W. S. Seitzlet of Waco; A. H. Seigle, C. W. Matson, C. C. Nelms and J. E. Brooks of Caldwell.

ONE KILLED; TWO HURT IN GUN BATTLE SUNDAY

SHOOTING AT NEGRO SUPPER RESULTS IN ONE DEAD AND TWO WOUNDED

Ben Garcia, tenant on the Jess Barrett farm is dead and his father, Rosalie Garcia is in the Cameron Hospital while Primo Flores was removed from the hospital to the county jail on Tuesday as a result of gun battle last Sunday morning at four o'clock.

The killing took place at a negro supper on the Ed McCall place, one mile west of Yarellton. All the parties in the fight and shooting were said to be drunk. The fight started when the Garcias jumped on a Mexican boy named Kidoso Rodriguez and Primo Flores took up for young Rodriguez. Ben Garcia was killed instantly by the gun of Flores, the bullet passing through the heart. Rosalie Garcia, father of Ben, shot Flores twice, one shot taking effect in the shoulder and the other grazing his head. Flores then shot Garcia one load passing through his right hip and the other through his right arm.

The two men wounded are now well on their way to recovery. Primo Flores has a murder charge filed against him and Rosalie Garcia is charged with unlawfully carrying a pistol. Judge Nolte of Ben Arnold accompanied Deputy Sheriffs Vaughn and Pope and held the inquest.

1313 BALES COTTON IN CAMERON TO WEDNESDAY

WAGON COTTON RECEIPTS MAY REACH MORE THAN 1600 BALES BY FRIDAY

Up to Wednesday night 1313 bales of wagon cotton had been received in Cameron.

Indications were that the number would reach 1600 or more by Friday morning. The prevailing price of seed and cotton together with the continued dry weather is bringing many farmers to Cameron.

Bales of cotton from remote sections of the county were noted at Cameron gins this morning.

Competition in seed prices is a big attraction to the farmers while the price of ginning has been cut to 20c at one gin. Cotton seed were bringing about $70 per ton this morning with prospects of higher figures.

CROP MAY BE SHORT OF ORIGINAL ESTIMATES

CROP DECLINE MAY PUT FIGURE BELOW 50,000 MARK OPINIONS SAY

Decline of the condition of the cotton crop in Milam county during the past two weeks may place the production for 1927 under the estimates furnished by business men and farmers.

The highest estimate furnished was 50,000 bales. This figure is 20,000 under the 1926 crop.

Continued dry weather has caused young cotton to drop fruiting to a large extent and now it is believed that the figure for the 1927 crop will be slightly lower than the 50,000 mark. However, if rain is received in the next few days the plant would be expected to revive and produce more cotton.

The price of the staple now ranging around 20c basis for square and 2c for round bales and seed selling well above $60 per ton, gives encouragement to the farmers and business will be helped by the fall harvest.

The increased price will offset any shortage in production, it is pointed out.

Pickers are needed in this county to a limited extent. The peak of the movement will be reached about the middle of September, it is said.

Supper and Outing For Knights Pythias And Their Families

A committee headed by J. P. Love and assisted by Earl K. Adrian and Jake L. Posey will arrange for a refreshment course and a social gathering for Knights of Pythias and their families at the Cameron Bass Club lake on next Tuesday night, August 23.

The meeting will bring together the Knights and their wives and children for a delightful entertainment on the shores of the Hefley Lake.

Every member of the Knights of Pythias is urged to be present and to bring his wife and children.

There will be refreshments for all served by the special committee of Knights. After the supper there will be speaking and entertainment for the Knights and their wives.

Chas. Baughman, former Grand Chancellor of Texas, who is in this district this week, will be on the program for a speech.

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 5TH

FACULTY COMPLETED AND T. A. FISHER ANNOUNCES OPENING DATE FOR 1927-28

The Cameron Schools will open for the 1927-28 session on Monday, September 5. All positions on the faculty with the exception of the Commercial Department have been filled, and a teacher for this department will be elected within the next week. The joint county institute which the Cameron teachers have attended in the past has been discontinued, and the Cameron teachers will join the county teachers in a two day institute to be held September 29 and 30, in compliance with the provisions of the new institute law passed by the recent session of the Legislature.

Indications point to an exceptionally heavy enrollment, especially in high school. The fortieth legislature made an appropriation as a supplement to the Rural Aid Fund to be used for the payment of the tuition of pupils transferred to a high school district when the grade to which they have been regularly promoted is not taught in the district of their residence. The law also provides for the payment of high school tuition for students over 17 and under twenty-one years of age, who have been transferred by the county board for high school purposes. Many students from rural districts will doubtless take advantage of the tuition law who would be kept away from high school in case they were required to pay their own tuition.

The following will make up the faculty:

T. A. Fisher, Superintendent. High School; L. V. Perkins, principal; Guy T. Newton, head of the Department of Mathematics; W. S. Sterling, assistant in Mathematics; Miss Jolly Blanche Pitts, head of the English department; Miss Mary Alice Porter, assistant in English; Miss Mary Lake Henderson, head of the History Department; D. E. Temple, assistant in History; Miss Velda Walker, Latin and English; Miss Eleanor Hensley, Home Economics; Miss Elizabeth Goddard, assistant in Home Economics, Mathematics and English; Miss Lou Davis, Librarian.

Elementary Grades: Miss Irma Porter, Miss Martha Lou Hooks, Mrs. Corrie Childers, principal West side; Miss Earl Bragg, Miss Dallis Young, Miss Edna Sprinkle, Miss Grace Mangum, Miss Winnie Henderson, Miss Agnes Dusek, Miss Katherine Flinn, Miss Nadine Bragg, Miss Glenn Stafford, Miss Lucile Peterson, Miss Ethel Jenkins, Miss Lucile Ford, Miss Blanche Hensley, Miss Blanche Wiley, Mrs. Charles Nabours, Miss Helen Flinn and Miss Cora Rogers.

Colored school: O. J. Thomas, principal; B. A. Thomas, R. E. Hall, E. L. Hardeman, Lillian Miles, Lillian Struggs and Latona Kelley.

Says Cotton Crop Is Cut 10,000 Bales In Last Few Weeks

George T. Graves, cashier of the Cameron State Bank, said Thursday morning that the cotton crop in his estimation has lost 10,000 bales in the last two weeks.

"I have cut my estimation ten thousand bales because of my investigation among a large number of farmers. The crop is not more than 40,000 for the county and the past two weeks has seen a sharp decline in the plant and production. The shortness of the crop everywhere should force the price to a much higher level."

Mr. Graves is an extensive cultivator of cotton acreage and knows about the condition of the crop.

Dance

There will be a dance at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Wednesday night August 24 with music by J. D. Lewis.

GYMNASTIC PROGRAM TO FEATURE EXERCISES

JOHN STASA, PRESIDENT OF UNION, ANNOUNCES PROGRAM FOR THE DAY

The people of Milam county will welcome the announcement that the Sokols will exhibit at Buckholts on Sunday afternoon August 28, 1927 with a gymnastic program that bids fair to be the best exhibition the Sokols have staged in their history there.

John Stasa, president of the Sokols at Buckholts, was in Cameron Tuesday and while here arranged to advertise the program and announced details of the celebration.

The Buckholts Sokols won second prize in the state contest in Dallas on July 3, 1927 in competition with the best gymnastics of the state. This speaks well for the Buckholts union and for its president and directors.

A feature of the program on Sunday August 28 will be an address by W. G. Gillis of Cameron.

At night in the S. P. J. S. T. hall a dance will conclude the program for the day.

There will be plenty of cold drinks served on the grounds. The exercises are to be held at the school building in Buckholts and there is plenty of shade for the crowds.

Many people from Cameron will attend the celebration. The following is the program:

The Buckholts and Seaton Societies of the American Sokol Union will give an exhibition of Gymnastic Exercises in Buckholts at the School House on that nice play ground Sunday afternoon August 28th.

The Sokol gymnastic program will start at 3:00 o'clock.

The entire public is invited to attend the exercises and enjoy the afternoon.

Program
3:00 P. M.—Concert.

Address of welcome by the President of local Sokols.

Address by Hon. W. G. Gillis of Cameron.

Deputy and Constable Arrest 11 Men On Vagrancy Charge

Deputy Sheriff Guy Pope and Constable Chas. Sens lodged eleven men in jail on Wednesday afternoon on vagrancy charge. Three were Mexicans and eight negroes in the bunch. During the past year while work was scarce the officers here have been overlooking the arrest of vagrants on account of the inability of many to find work but now with the cotton picking in full force the officers have started a clean up campaign and the loafers must either go to work or leave town. Of the eleven arrested ten of them were turned over to farmers to pick cotton this morning.

Mrs. Wm. Stolz and children of Navasota spent the greater part of last week in Cameron visiting old friends. Mrs. Stolz formerly lived in Cameron and has a host of friends who are always glad to see her again.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cook of Rockdale are visiting relatives in Cameron this week.

OF 3 DIES IN CHAIR*GOES TO DEATH WITHOUT TREMOR FOR DEATH OF STEP-SON

Huntsville, Aug. 12.—The man without a friend is dead. He was killed in the electric chair this morning.

He went out alone, braced by a cup of coffee and the words prescribed by law.

No one of those others in the death house wished him luck.

He walked down the corridor a step or two, through the little steel door, on to the strap-hung chair in utter silence.

And there F. M. Snow, woodchopper and murderer, died as he had lived—silent, alone, a bit bewildered by it all. He was 50.

He Killed Three

Snow was sentenced from Stephenville in Erath county, for the murder of his stepson. He confessed also to the killing of his wife and mother-in-law. He cut off the boy's head. He burned the women's bodies like cord-wood.

Snow would not eat in the death house. He starved himself sick, trying to cheat the chair. He had no words for the others there. He lay brooding hour after hour on his cot. Officials feared he'd have to be carried to the chair.

Yesterday, his last day on earth, Snow was cheerful for the first time. He even joked a bit with Old Jerry, turnkey in the death tier. He smoked cigaret after cigaret. He took great dips of snuff.

$7.50 For Last Meal

"What do you want for your last supper, Snow? You can have anything."

He sucked deeply on his cigaret. "It doesn't make any difference." So they brought him a whole chicken, and cakes and pies, and fruits and vegetables. Old Jerry said the meal must have cost $7.50. But snow just picked at it and sent it away. Later he had eggs and milk.

"I never knew the prison to be so quiet before," an old guard said. "All day there's been no sound. It gives you the crawling creeps."

Night came. A full moon flooded the prison quadrangle. Down in the death chamber a few feet from the cells of the doomed, someone was bustling about, preparing the "hot seat."

The clock struck 11. Chaplain W. E. Miller, a quiet little man, went to visit Snow.

Read the Psalm

The Chaplain read the 23rd Psalm, his voice sing-songing a bit:

"The Lord is my shepherd . . ."
Snow's hands twisted at the blankets of his cot.

"He restoreth my soul . . ."
A negro in the death cells hid his face.

"Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death . . ."

Snow's hands were clasped in his lap. He looked down at the floor. There was no movement in his drooping shoulders.

" . . . I will dwell in the House of the Lord forever."

There was a great quiet in the death house. The chaplain was praying, praying for the soul of the man without a friend, who sat there silent, his head bowed.

"You must put your trust in God, my friend."

The doomed man's head came up slowly. His voice was flat.

"I guess there ain't nobody to trust now but God."

Acting Warden B. L. Schramm went into Snow's cell. In the absence of Warden Speer, he had to read the death warrant.

"Snow, are you guilty of these crimes? You know what we've got to do."

"Yes, Cap'n, I guess I am."

Then Snow Talked

Then Snow talked, talked more than

Keep Fit!

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

To be well, you must keep the blood stream free from impurities. If the kidneys lag, allowing body poisons to accumulate, a toxic condition is created. One is apt to feel dull, languid, tired and achy. A nagging backache is sometimes a symptom, with drowsy headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. If you have reason to suspect improper kidney functioning, try Doan's Pills—a tested stimulant diuretic. Users praise them throughout the United States. Ask your neighbor!

ever since he went to the death cell. He talked of his home, of woodchopping, of hunting—of everything except the chair.

"You've been mighty good to me, Cap'n, thanks."

Captain Schramm went away, and Ranger Captain Tom Hockman went in to talk with Snow, to ask him of the murder of a boy whose body, the head cut off, was found near Stephenville years ago. Snow denied this murder.

In the execution chamber, 29 persons waited. They were crowded against the iron rail about the chair. The chamber is a tiny room, scarcely four paces wide and ten paces long. The walls are grey as a dead man's face.

The chair, all straps and buckles and polished hardwood, sits in the middle of the room. Just behind it is a curtain, behind which, at his switchboard, stands the executioner. Engines were set in motion, dropping dully as they generated 'the juice' to kill.

A little steel door opened slowly. Two guards came in. Behind them was Snow, shuffling a bit, but calm.

His shaved skull glistened like a newly peeled onion.

Face Was Purple

The man's face was sickly purple. "Have you anything to say?"

A wrinkled hand plucked at the collar button.

"No, I don't guess I have."

"Be seated."

The death cap, brown leather, was put on and strapped under the chin.

The left trousers' leg was rolled up; electrodes attached. A black leather mask was fitted over the face. The guards stepped back. The engine whirled faster.

The lights were dim.

Snow's body writhed against the straps.

The lights were bright. The body sagged.

Dim again.

Bright again.

Dim again.

The doctor stepped forward with his stethoscope. The only calm person in the room was the first woman ever to witness an electrocution in Texas. She was Miss Dorothy Armstrong, a Huntsville newspaperwoman.

"Still breathing."

"My God, let me out," mumbled a man, stepping into the yard.

The lights went dim again.

It was 12:18.

The man without a friend was dead.

LEE COUNTY MAN MAKES ENDS MEET

John Orsag lives over in Lee county where they have all kinds of soils. His post office is Dime Box. He has 118 acres of rolling lands, but the bulk of his soils are black mesquite. He has owned this farm for ten years and has says that the quality of his garden produce depends on the weather, and that while he ordinarily grows enough feed, has enough hogs for his meat, has milk and butter, plenty of chickens, eggs and turkeys, but sometimes he finds that in dry years he may not have enough surplus to meet all his living expenses, but does at all other times.

Among his money crops he mentions 13 bales of cotton, corn, cane, potatoes, sheep, hogs and cattle, but notwithstanding that he may run into some dry years, he has his farm paid for and never makes a crop mortgage. It would seem that he has found a of the most important problems that sometimes occur in those sections where the climate is somewhat changeable.

ROSEBUD FARMER PROSPERS

In Central Texas in the middle of the black land belt, J. Nussbaum has 112 acres near Rosebud, in Falls county. His farm is slightly rolling and his soils are very black. Nussbaum has been married 26 years and bought his present farm seven years after he was married. While Nussbaum raises his feeds and meat hogs, has milk and butter, chickens, turkeys and eggs, he only refers to his garden as being fairly good and says that he only has a surplus of these things to sell occasionally.

He only made 18 bales of cotton last year and speaks of this being considerable less than he ordinarily grows. In addition to this he sells calves and pigs.

Nussbaum's farm differs widely in character from those of Bright Messenger, E. M. Brewer, C. H. Grote, J. D. Via and John Orsage. Each of these farmers live under widely differing conditions and have their several problems of soil and climate. They have succeeded as is shown by their reports and their farms are paid for and they make no crop mortgages. They all follow live at home methods and descriptions of each of their farms and varying methods have been made short and emphasis has been placed on the widely varying conditions in order to more fully bring out the necessity for various kinds of crops. In the warmer and more rainy conditions of the south the crops and farm methods vary widely from those from the west and the cooler climate of the northern part of the state. Still it would almost seem that nature has helped to solve these problems by providing the kinds of soils that are most suitable to the climate conditions.

Mrs. F. J. Beckerman and her charming daughter, Miss Lillie Kate were hostess at a beautiful party last Thursday morning for Miss Louise Denson, a bride of the month. When the guests arrived they were reminded of the fairies prayer that each flower that withers might turn to a beautiful butterfly with wings like the flowers, for pretty butterflies of many bright colors were perched on basket handles, curtains, tables and every place where butterflies would. Four tables with pink and green covers were arranged and guests found like to sit and spread their wings their places by butterfly place cards. In the center of each table was a box when opened revealed hand work to be finished and given ohn'r't head be finished and given to the honoree. Many useful articles were made such as euptowels, tea towels, aprons and caps.

ers, olives, potatoe chips, apricot ice and cake. In the center of the tables were baskets of green and pink mints and on the handle of each sat a tiny butterfly. The gifts to the honoree was a green organdy boudoir pillow in butterfly design.

Thursday evening the Beckerman home was a merry one when a group of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Beckerman gathered for the every popular game of 42. The same decorations and salad courses were served as in the evening.

Bridge Club

Miss Grace Eplen was hostess to the Monday night bridge club at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. M. Eplen. The rooms of the homes were beautifully decorated in zinnias of many hues. Two tables were arranged for bridge with lovely yellow and white

A REFLECTION

Outrageous destruction of buildings, costing the lives of innocent persons, and parades bearing banners insulting to this country have taken place since Gov. Alvin T. Fuller of Massachusetts announced his decision refusing executive clemency to the radicals, Sacco and Vanzetti. His decision and the report of the committee reviewing the case were based upon the fact that they were unable to find, after exhaustive research, any basis for a new trial, any sign that the trial had been unfairly held, and the belief that these two men were guilty of murder beyond a reasonable doubt.

The incidents that have taken place since that decision are a reflection upon the law-abiding citizens of the United States. That such things could happen in this country, all because two members of an organization had been sentenced to die for committing a brutal murder and justifiably denied executive clemency, is hardly believable. Unbiased minds are certain that these two radicals have been given every chance. Their sentence has been delayed for six years; every move possible was made in their behalf. In fact, as one writer aptly expressed it, "justice has leaned backward in an effort to be fair."

But is this taken into consideration by those who desire to attain their ends through force and a reign of terror, or at any cost? No. It becomes necessary in this, a supposedly civilized country, to guard all public buildings with armed forces. Not only here but in foreign countries American buildings must be guarded through fear of destruction. In Paris the police had difficulty in defending the American consulate against a mob of hostile Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers. In Morocco the American flag was unspeakably desecrated and burned. And in many other countries acts of a similar nature, insulting to every true American, have taken place.

At least it will serve one good purpose. The public will awaken to the danger of such groups, composed largely of a foreign element, that threaten to undermine the structure of this government. It will demand, no doubt, that the full force of the law, providing for the deportation of aliens guilty of violent acts, be swung into action. Groups, seeking to weaken the present immigration laws by opening a little wider the gates which allow the influx of such an element, will meet with more opposition.

This has already been indicated by Representative Albert Johnson, chairman of the immigration and naturalization committee of the House of Representatives, who said that Sacco and Vanzetti should never have been admitted to the United States. He hopes to pass stricter laws, in regard to the admittance and the naturalization of aliens, in the forthcoming session of Congress. He declared:

"We hope soon to put through Congress a law by which naturalized citizens who, after swearing allegiance to the United States, wear black shirts and swear undying allegiance to Mussolini or any other dictator, or who support any other government, shall be deprived of their naturalization. Citizenship is the greatest gift the United States has to bestow. It has been gladly received by millions. The time has come when such acquired citizenship shall not be used by radicals to the danger of this great Government."—Ex.

PRESBYTERIANS AWARD CONTRACT FOR CHURCH

COST OF CONTRACT LET WEDNESDAY $27,400; OTHER AWARDS TO FOLLOW

Contract for the construction of their new building plans for which have been made for some time, was awarded Wednesday by the building committee to the Dennis Construction Company of Houston, according to announcement by H. G. Kenney, pastor of the church and A. F. Mitchell of the building committee.

Ground will probably be broken Monday for the building and work is to commence at once.

The building is to be one of the most modern church plants in this section of the state and the design is very impressive. The committee has had the plans under advisement for some time and the church has the necessary funds to complete this building. The building will be located two blocks north of the present church, the old building and lot having been sold some time ago.

The church is making fine progress under the pastor Rev. Kenney and the completion of this church will be a great forward step in his ministry here as well as the life of the church.

FLAPPER GRANDMOTHER YOE HIGH FRIDAY

EPWORTH LEAGUE OF METHODIST CHURCH ANNOUNCE BIG PLAY

All the old who wish to gain youth and all the young who wish to retain youth come to the Yoe High School Friday evening, August 19, and learn the "Flapper Grandmother" methods. This is a three act musical comedy sponsored by the Epworth League of the Methodist church. The players are Cameron people and there are sixty-five in the cast, ranging from grandmothers and grandfathers to grandchildren.

Some of the special features are an interesting plot, clever lines that will make a sour grape smile, jelly beans, matron chorus, eight chorus girls and clever dances.

These chorus girls are the Ziegfeld girls of the Southwest. They are comets in comparison to the stars on Broadway. Don't miss seeing them.

If you come to the Yoe High school auditorium Friday night, August 19th you will enjoy two hours of sparkling entertainment. If you don't laugh at the peculiar antics of Maggie Pepper whose part is played by Miss Eloise Rogers your money will be refunded.

Tickets can be reserved now at the Palace of Sweets. Don't delay or the best seats will be sold. Watch for the big parade Friday afternoon.

COLORED FARMERS IN ENCAMPMENT PROGRAM

WORK AMONG PEOPLE PRAISED BY SPEAKERS ON THE PROGRAM

The Summer Encampment of the Farmers Improvement Society of Milam County has come and gone and much good has been done for the colored citizens of this locality, in fact the leading citizens both white and black are spreading the news of the wonderful work done during these two days. Such men and women as the following spoke on the various subjects uplifting to the race: Hon. T. S. Henderson, one of the outstanding characters of Texas after telling the people that he was in the legislature with our grand president R. L. Smith and that he regarded him as one of the county's most useful men. He spoke in high terms of the Farmers Improvement Society and the things it stood for.

Hon. W. G. Gillis, a young man of stalwart character, several years County Superintendent of Education and later County Judge. A young man whom the colored people of Milam county have always regarded as one of their best friends especially the

CITY ASKS OPINION ON STREET OILING

CITIZENS APPEAL FOR RELIEF FROM ROUGH STREETS AND DUST

The city will ask A. F. Mitchell, engineer, for an opinion on the character of street topping used by a number of Texas towns which calls for the use of an oiling process.

Proponents of this plan say that the treatment which is of an asphaltic nature will answer the traffic needs here and will be much cheaper than asphalt paving.

Street commissioner Logan Green and City Marshal B. Slocumb, spent Tuesday in San Marcos investigating this type of paving. It was pointed out in the report to the council last night that this type of paving laid several years ago has stood the test of traffic and answers paving needs. The city of Cuero was cited also as an example of this street improvement.

According to Mr. Slocumb who supplied the council with figures the total cost including gravel and two coats of the oil, will not exceed $120 per block.

Mayor Davis said citizens here have expressed the desire to pay the entire cost of this paving.

Mr. Mitchell has been invited to give the city an opinion of this work and if the estimate seems satisfactory so far as lasting qualities are concerned, the council may recommend the treatment.

Some members of the council expressed a doubt as to the durability of this paving and hope that the original program of a paving plan for next spring will not be interfered with. If this plan is successful the city would have considerable additional paving of the type now on the business streets. It would require a bond issue, they point out but the city would get permanent paving with cement curbs and engineering service.

The streets are in bad condition now because of the continued dry weather and the heavy traffic. Some method of saving the gravel structure must be employed and it is likely that some definite announcement will be made in a short time. The opinion of Mr. Mitchell will be sought this week as he will leave Cameron for France on September 1 to attend the annual convention of the American Legion.

The story of the new Hudson Super-Six, which is announced and displayed by Horstmann Brothers, Tire Store, Hudson-Essex dealer is essentially a story of a striking innovation in motor design.

teachers of the county.

Mrs. R. L. Smith, our educational director delivered one of the best addresses that have ever been delivered here by a woman.

Grand President Smith's address as usual was excellent. Our Grand Chaplain was present and made a splendid speech. Other great speeches were made by such men as Rev. Holoway, Rev. Alonza and others. Sister Lilly Boxley in her usual way delivered a very fine address.

Prof. H. S. Estell, District Extension Agent was present and held the audience spell bound explaining the work of the service.

Prof. J. H. Williams and his club boys played an important part in the program. More than 30 boys were in active attendance. Judging of Dairy Cattle, beef cattle, hogs, poultry, corn and grain sorghums were a part of their program and many showed decided attitude along these lines.

Large crowds attended every session throughout the two days meeting. Much educational work was done along agricultural lines. Our county president Hon. G. W. Sledge and his co-workers deserve much credit for the way this summer encampment was conducted.—Contributed.

A Garden Party

One of the most interesting unique and elaborate courtesies of the pre-nuptial events to the wedding on Thursday, August 25, 1927 of Miss Louise Denson and Mr. Eber Flinn of Cameron, was the old fashioned garden party and informal tea given last Thursday evening by Mrs. E. A. Flinn, mother of the groom-to-be; Mrs. B. S. Brewer, aunt of the groom, and the two daughters of the home, Misses Katherine and Helen Flinn.

The party, a distinguished gathering of friends of the families giving in marriage these popular young people, was held on the lawn and in the beautiful flower garden of the Flinn home stretching out for some distance in a haze of bloom and gay colored flowers. The genius of apt decoration as well as arrangement of the garden, featured the pleasing setting for this delightful tea and party held under the canopy of stars and silver moon beams. Soft breezes caressing the sweet petals of gorgeous flowers, the spirit of youth, love and laughter inspired by the devotion of friends made for Miss Louise an hour of triumph in the brilliant social program that has characterized the days preceding her marriage.

Across the spacious reaches of the lawn and garden ran two rows of lights reflected by many colored globes and these contrasting colors falling with brilliance on the flowers, grass and shrubs, with alternating Japanese lanterns furnished a scene of brilliance, yet harmonizing with the rich and conservative scheme color.

Among the shrubs and flowers were found rustic furniture and soft hued rugs making in detail a most complete arrangement for receiving as well as entertaining guests. The guests were met at the entrance to this shrine of color and romance by Misses Helen and Katherine Flinn who in turn presented each to Mrs. T. J. Denson who in her most charming way directed them to the receiving line where stood Mrs. E. A. Flinn, Mrs. John L. Denson, Miss Louise Denson, Mrs. Bertha Brewer and Mrs. N. C. Erskine of Temple. In the receiving line each wore evening costumes in harmony with the dignity and rich color of the flowers and decorative scheme. Miss Denson, the bride-to-be wore a frock of blue satin with white shoes and rhinestone bandeau.

Punch served each guest by Misses Bess Wiley, Louise Adams, and Mrs. C. W. Bradbury, each in lovely summery dresses. The delicious preparation was served from a bowl hidden away in a bank of pink roses and green crown.

The lawn and garden is arranged in plots, with grass in the center and flowers around. The blossoms were in full bloom and the large garden was a place of beauty and charm as each guest was directed down a narrow path to a table on which lay the bride's book where each one registered under the direction of Mrs. Cliffton Jness. Here also stood Little Madeline Tucker in white dress and veil with orange blossoms and Master John Lane Baskin in full evening dress. On through the garden the guests found under direction of Miss Clara Thomas and Mrs. Arthur Kruse the dining room in the center of which stood a table with lace cover on center with an immense silver basket of rose buds. On each convenient portion of the table with its old lace and silver were found bon-bon dishes of green and white mints. Cream in orange blossom mould and angel squares decorated in orange blossoms were served by Misses Sue Griffin Webb, Harriett Flinn, Lena Bell Baskin, Florence Atkinson and Dora Emily Moore. Little Jean Tabor presented to each guest a white and gold wedding bell.

During the evening Miss Lola Clinton and Mrs. C. W. Bradbury gave violin selections of sweet music in soft refrain from inspiration of moon beam, flower and the mingled happiness of those who came to honor Miss Denson in her hours of happiness. Miss Louise Adams accompanied by Miss Helen Flinn sang, "Gypsy Love Song," and "All For You."

Mrs. J. C. Tucker and Mrs. Roy Baskin assisted in receiving and entertaining the guests in the garden during the delightful vening

A Caloria Party

Can you come to my party at 9 a. m. August 16, if you please, Can you also write on the cards enclosed

Just one or two of your best recipes And to make it a regular 'can' show-er.

Can you possibly bring one can Of some thing to eat that will tickle the taste

Of a bride and her hungry man. Can you the day before

Bring your can to my door, And keep the secret from Louise Not if you can but if you please.

The above unique invitations were received last week by twelve friends of Miss Louise Denson to come to the home of Mrs. J. C. Tucker and enjoy her caloria party.

The reception hall and parlor of the home were artistically decorated with flowers and ferns. The three tables arranged for bridge were very cleverly named fat, medium and thin, the markers being score cards to represent 'cans'. The tally cards were decorated cans of meats, vegetables or fruit with the picture of each painted on one side and the amount of calories obtained from these food were found on the other side and these numbers helped to boost the scores at the conclusion of several interesting games. Miss Grace Mangum with only 675 calories to her credit 'gained' rapidly and won high, a cook book with neat white cover. Miss Bess Wiley won low, a crystal measuring cup. These were presented to Miss Denson. The hostess' gift to the honoree was a lovely hand embroidered apron.

A salad course was served from decorated trays, in the center of each stood a miniature bride in a heart frame of pressed chicken, ripe olives, cheese chips, delicious salad, crackers and iced tea. Mrs. Roy Baskin and little Clifton the son of the home helped in hostess duties. After the trays were removed a beautifully decorated box containing the 'cans' and 'recipes' was presented to Miss Denson, who thanked each one in her most charming way.

Mesdames Flinn, Brewer and John Denson came in for the social hour.

BEWARE of the High Pressure Solicitor

House-To-House canvassing has been developed to a marked degree of high pressure salesmanship. The same principles that the blu-sky stock salesman uses are employed. The first rule in the canvasser's book is, 'not to let the prospect ask any questions, but do all the talking yourself.'

The next time one of these birds begins his or her carefully rehearsed spiels interrupt with a few questions.

When he talks about eliminating middlemen's profits, ask him what he is if not a middleman. Ask him, too, about the "crew manager," "district sales manager" and "zone supervisors" under whom he works, and all of whom must get "their bit."

Ask him what you are going to do if the merchandise proves unsatisfactory. Who is going to make good, he or his firm? If the firm, what assurance have you that they are not going to repudiate the claims on the very popular grounds that "the agent had no authority to make the claims specified and that we cannot be expected to be held liable."

But best of all, ask the agent or canvasser if you can take the goods offered and compare them with the same priced merchandise offered by your local merchant.

That will spike his guns!

In the interest of self-protection as well as the common good of the community trade with your home merchants.

Lampasas, Tex., Aug. 4.—An $8.75 quart jar of pecans is a very interesting exhibit in the agricultural products building at the Seventh Annual Lampasas fair which opened Wednesday and closed Friday.

This particular jar is not distinguished from numerous others in the pecan exhibit and attracts no particular attention except among a few pecan enthusiasts but it contains 35 of the new Moss variety of nuts sold by D. F. Moore of the Bend community last season at the neat price of 25 cents each.

They were not sold for planting purposes. As a matter of fact Mr. Moore returned scores of orders from people who wanted them for planting because he maintains that pecans cannot be depended upon to reproduce themselves with any degree of faithfulness when planted. They were not sold for eating purposes, either but for souvenirs.

The Moss pecan came about in this way. W. J. Millican and D. F. and W.
T. Moore, al lpecan enthusiasts of the Bend community staged a world wide search for the best native pecans.
They offered prizes of $100 for the largest and best individual pecans.
The winning nuts came from a tree on the Carl Moss ranch near Llano. 31 nuts weighed a pound. It is pecans from buds taken from this tree that Mr. Moore sold for 25 cents each and a few of which he saved for his pecan exhibit. It is rumored that Mr. Moore is now trying to work out a plan of crossing this pecan with the cocoanut to increase the size.

D. F. Moore has 135 acres set out in improved varieties of pecans which are from one to seven years old. He also has considerable native pecan timber. In his exhibit he has some of the Millican variety, claimed to be the softest shelled type in the state. At
A. & M. college these pacans tested 100 per cent from the standpoint of cracking.

The Hollis variety is also represented in his exhibit. This variety originated from the famous "Old Jumbo" tree of the Bend community. Its fruit said to be the first to ever bring the fancy price of $1.00 per pound, won first prize at the World's fair at St.
Louis. It is about 200 years old. Several other fine varieties are shown including the "Wright." Mr. Moore and Mr. Mullican ordered 10,000 buds of this variety a few years ago and prize them very highly.

W. J. Millican markets about 40,000 pounds of pecans annually. The crop is short this year, however, and his production will probably fall below 25,000 pounds, he says. He has 2,000 native bearing trees. Most of them are 43 years old and bear as much as 600 pounds each in a season. He also has some trees which are 100 years old, some of which bear as high as 800 pounds.

Recently Mr. Millican cut a limb from one of his choice trees and sold the pecans from it for more than $100.
The limb overhung the river and threatened to cause the tree to lean and cave the bank. He has been offered $500 for several of his trees. He devotes his whole time to pecans. He has 100 acres of land in cultivation but rents it to others. Crops are made between the bearing pecan trees. He is vice president of the state association of pecan growers which held its annual convention at Gonzales a few weeks ago. San Saba won the 1923 meeting.

Miss Veo Millican, who is assisting with the exhibits at the fair, is said to be the only woman pecan expert in the state. She is the daughter of W.
J. Millican and very enthusiastic about the budding and grafting of pecans.

Bend pecan growers have their own pecan association and selling pool.
Last season they shipped fifteen carloads of pecans to big shelling companies, receiving 12 cents per pound.
The crop yielded approximately $55,- 000. The finer varieties of nuts are not included in the pool but are sold at from 30 cents to $1.00 per pound.

The State Of Texas

To the sheriff or any constable of Milam County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Milam County, a copy of the following notice:

The State of Texas

To all persons interested in the welfare of the Estate of Lucretia Williams, deceased J. C. Tucker was by the County Court of Milam County, Texas, on the 9th day of August A. D. 1927 duly appointed Temporary Administrator of the estate of said deceased, which appointment will be made permanent should the Court be of the opinion that a permanent Administrator is necessary, unless the same shall be successfully contested at the next term of said Court, commencing on the first Monday in October A. D. 1927 the same being the 3rd day of October A. D. 1927, at the Court House thereof in Cameron, Texas at which time all persons interested in the welfare of the estate of said deceased may appear and contest such appointment, if they so desire.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this Writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Cameron, Texas this the 17th day of August A. D. 1927.

LILLIAN ATKINSON, Clerk,
County Court, Milam County, Tex.

Fifty years ago a textile plant of Chicopee, Massachusetts, resorted to the use of silver to replace all bills up to five dollars. Some 1,500 silver dollars, or 'cart wheels,' most of them the same coins put into circulation a half century ago, are still moving about in this town.

Leave For California

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Denson left Cameron Wednesday in their car for California, going the northern route through New Mexico. Mr. Denson recently sold the Post Office Service station here to the Gunn Oil Company and has not engaged in business since the sale but is taking a much needed rest from his work at the station. They will be gone several weeks on the trip and their friends here wish for them a pleasant journey.

Believes Cotton Crop Shorter Than Estimate

A. J. McKinney of Jones Prairie was in Cameron Monday of this week and while here called at The Herald office to advertise the posting of his farm against hunters and trespassers to protect the game supply on his place and his stock.

Mr. McKinney has been a resident of that section for many years and declares every crop of the farm this year. "and note that the general estimate was 50,000 bales for this year. I do not believe Milam County will raise this amount. I believe that 25,000 or 30,000 bales will be nearer the mark. Cotton has deteriorated fast in the past few days and the production will be short."

Mr. McKinney has a wonderful feed crop on his farm but his cotton production will be very low, he says.

Kestenbaum-Steinberg

Among the interesting weddings of the summer is that of Miss Francis Steinberg of Chicago and Louis Kestenbaum of Rockdale which took place Sunday August 14 at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Winfield. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was read by Dr. C. Blumenthal of Waco after which a buffet luncheon was served to about forty-five guests.

The bride wore a lovely creation of white crepe with large picture hat and carried a shower bouquet of sweet heart roses. Attendants in the wedding were Miss Lillian Steinburg, sister of the bride, maid of honor and Mrs. Ester Sider of Ft. Worth, bride's maid. Miss Steinburg was given in marriage by her cousin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. Weinstein. The groom was attended by his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. S. Kestenbaum.

Mr. and Mrs. Kestenbaum will make their home in Rockdale where he is engaged in business with his father.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. Weinstein, Mr. and Mrs. G.

Steinberg of Chicago, Miss Roy Miller of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. John Kestenbaum and two sons, William and Dove, parents of the groom of Rockdale, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Appedman of Rockdale, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lynn and Mrs. Barts of Rosebud.

Mr. W. L. Hause of Baton Rouge, La., is in Cameron visiting friends and relatives. He is a Cameron boy having finished school here and was employed at Cheeves Bros for years but for the last several years has been living in Louisiana. He is a nephew of Mrs. T. L. Randolph. His old friends are glad to welcome him back to Cameron after an absence of many years.

New Zone Sales For Chevrolet Motor Co.

Creation of a new Chevrolet zone sales office, the 20th to be opened since 1925 and the 43rd now established in the United States, more than half of which have parts division depots providing the public with quicker and more efficient service, was announced today by M. J. Klingler, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The new zone, located at Portland, Me., is the ninth to be established since the first of the year, according to Mr. Klingler, others having been opened at Columbia, S. C.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Richmond, Va.; Butte, Mont.; El Paso, Texas; Charleston, W. Va.; Wichita, Kan.; and Seattle, Wash. "The rapidity which new offices have been opened this year denotes a generally healthful condition of business throughout the country," Mr. Klingler said. "It will be noted that our new offices are located in every section of the United States, an indication that conditions are uniformly good, which augurs well for the fall outlook. Further evidence of this is contained in the fact that Chevrolet sales for every month this year showed a substantial gain over the same period last year, and August sales for the first ten days indicated that we will have the best August of record. By the middle of the month factory production will have exceeded the entire output for 1926.

"Our policy is to place new zone offices wherever the growth in car sales warrants it. With this in mind we get a new index of the enormous increase in production and sales of Chevrolet by noting that in 1925 we had only 23 zone offices and an annual output of 519,060 units. Today we have 43 zone offices and our factories are planning to turn out nearly one million cars this year.

"The new office at Portland gives us a network of wholesale points in every section of the country, extending from Portland, Me. to Jacksonville, Fla., and from Seattle, Wash. to Los Angeles Cal., with many intermediate points such as Fargo, N. D., El Paso, Tex. and Columbia, S. C. The last two additions to the list were at the Northern extremities, Portland and Seattle.

"Towns which acquire new zone offices benefit considerably by their establishment. Each zone office has its own sales manager and an assistant, a parts and service manager, a sales promoting manager, a car distributor, an office manager, an accountant, five to twenty field representatives, and a large clerical force adequate to handle many thousands of dollars worth of business each year.

"In addition to the car sales duties executed at these zones, they prove of still further service to the public under our present plan that makes many of them also parts distribution centers. At 24 of the 43 zone provision has been made for the establishment of parts depots, each one to carry from $50,000 to $500,000 worth of parts, and bringing to the communities in which they are located a business of these proportions. This will obviate the delay entailed when new parts have to be forwarded from the factory, and will assure Chevrolet owners everywhere of instant service on new parts or replacements."

Half Past Eight

Mrs. John Ryan on last Friday entertained with a party for her little daughter, Helen, who is eight years old.

The little people gathered in the park at five o'clock and enjoyed a round of pleasure consisting of games and stories. Mrs. White read the book "Little Babs" which was enjoyed by all the youngsters. Delicious punch was served to each one from a punch bowl fashioned from a block of ice. The birthday cake was beautiful and on it were eight tiny candles and before they were blown out all wished Helen many more happy birthdays. The emblems in the cake fell to Carter Brogdon, button; Helen Ryan, wishbone; Joe Bill White, thimble;

Billie Wilson, dime; and Elizabeth Mangum, ring. Ice cream cones and life savers were served by Arnett Ryan and Laurita Evans. Each little guest was given a novelty pink and white cap to wear home. Helen was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. Mrs. Ryan was assisted by Mesdames Roy Jeter, Julian Bas-kin and G. C. Sloan. Out of town guests were Jeanette McIntyre and Gratt Sloan of Milano.

Miss Frances Hause of Baylor College was home Sunday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hause. Miss Hause's picture appeared in the Post-Dispatch Sunday in a make-up imposed on Freshmen by the Sophomores in Baylor summer session.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 83

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never gripes, sickens or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

If past fifty, buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

To The Farmers of Milam County:

I feel that I am too well known to the people of Milam County to give a detailed account of the events and years of my life spent among the best friends and the best people one may know.

However, in view of the developments in the ginning business in Cameron during the past week, I want to say that I have been in the gin business for 21 years. I started in an obscure way, a poor boy, growing up amid pioneer surroundings and fully appreciating the debt I owe to my friends and the good people.

If I have made a success, I feel I owe as much to my friends as I do to the energy and hard work I have placed behind my plants and industries. I found and I have pursued without turning aside the policy of honesty and integrity in everything I have done; into every effort I have put forth to attain success. I have pursued the policy of honesty and integrity in every transaction and in every angle of the struggle that has brought me through the years in which I knew the exactions of hard work and tireless energy. I have tried to make every effort succeed and I have made all my actions square with the principle of appreciation for friends and absolute fidelity to honesty and integrity.

For nearly ten years I had the only gin in Cameron. I ginned cotton at 40c per hundred lint and hauled the bale to the yards free. That was the situation when the other gins came in. Since other gins have been built in order to get their seed I have had to do pretty much as they do.

I have always believed in one price for ginning to all and the fact that my patronage in ginning comes largely from the small farmers, I feel this is evidence that I play fair in my dealings with the farmers.

I am not asking for your business through sympathy but if you think I deserve your patronage please give it to me.

Black-Draught, Says
Gadsden Lady.

"Ever since I have known about Black-Draught," says Mrs. Della Mayben, of Gadsden, Ala., "it has been my regular standby for indigestion and constipation."

"I first used Black-Draught fourteen years ago. At that time, I was suffering with a bad case of swelling across my abdomen. Every bite I ate disagreed with me, and I had very severe headaches."

"I decided to try Black-Draught. I was truly astonished at the quick relief. In a few days, I began to feel like a different woman. Instead of being dull and listless, I began to feel bright and energetic."

"From that time on, I have rarely been without a box of Black-Draught in my house." 25 cents. Insist on the genuine.

Road Overseers Not Exempt From Jury Service; New Law

Messrs. Sam W. Law, of Cameron, Y. A. Gjedde of Rockdale and E. L. Miller of Milano were appointed by the district Judge as jury commissioners to select sixteen grand jurors, 360 petit jurors and 100 special veniremen for jury service for the September term of court.

Heretofore road overseers have been exempt from jury service, but the 40th Legislature removed that exemption and that service does not now exempt them. Many of our best citizens hold commissions as road overseers and thus evade jury service; now they must serve.

(Right) Hudson's new motor now affording high compression advantages on ordinary gasoline.

The story of the new Hudson Super-Six, which is announced and displayed by Horstmann Brothers, Tire Store, Hudson-Essex dealer is essentially a story of a striking innovation in motor design.

General appearance of the cars is improved with important advances both in interior and exterior. But while the new bodies are more attractive, the most striking step ahead is the new motor, for which the Hudson organization puts forth sweeping and positive claims. The most interesting are:

1. The motor employs unusually high compression with its accompanying power and efficiency, yet avoids spark knock, roughness and other qualities heretofore thought unavoidable with such a motor.

2. No special or doped fuels are necessary or even desirable; the design of the motor cares for this problem.

3. Fuel-energy formerly wasted is turned into power. Greater power is developed at all speeds—and particularly at high speeds.

4. A degree of smoothness and flexibility is gained which may be compared with that of a steam engine.

So important does the Hudson Motor Car Company regard these improved results that it has applied for basic patents on the design and the principles involved. They are presented to the public as a companion-invention to the Super-Six principle of motor balance which has been a feature of Hudson construction for more than ten years.

Hudson engineers explain that the most interesting feature of the new motor is the manner in which fuel is fed to the cylinders, and there it is fed. In this new design—of F-head type—the intake valve is located in the combustion chamber so that it overlaps in part the exhaust valve, which is placed below it. Thus coming in from above the fuel enters the combustion chamber freely through a large sized valve. If there is any heavy wet mixture in the fuel, it drops directly on the exhaust valve below, and is immediately vaporized. It then passes into the cylinders in an ideal condition for firing. At the same time the dropping of this mixture on the exhaust valve helps keep that unit at a more moderate temperature, adding to its life.

Prolonged tests of this motor have proved, it is said, that this feature of design prevents the difficulty of raw gasoline entering the cylinders. The exhaust valve is a highly effective 'hot spot', built within the motor itself.

In the actual firing of the fuel, which has now reached the cylinders, even more important advances have been perfected. Fuel compression has been raised to an exceptionally high figure—recognized in all motors as requisite to high efficiency. But the problem has been to avoid fuel knocks. The Hudson design accomplishes this by the shape of the combustion chamber and the location of the spark plug.

Instead of being placed at the center of the combustion chamber the plug is located to the extreme side, near the two valves. When a spark is generated, the first explosion of the highly compressed fuel is extremely sharp. But the first effects are localized in the small chamber around the valves, and serve chiefly to seat the valves very tightly. The flame then spreads over into the cylinder. There it exercises a pushing rather than an explosive effect upon the piston. The effect may be likened to modern cannon explosives—which push the projectile all the way down the barrel. The meaning of this new design to the owner, say the Hudson engineers, is that he obtains a superior performance at all stages of operation.

Cars have been thoroughly tested locally and found to perform better than any previous Hudson. The local Hudson-Essex organization is naturally highly enthusiastic. Mr. Horstmann sums up the whole car as follows:

Hudson engineers are noted for working along simple and practical lines. Instead of trying to develop a motor which would perform unusually on special fuel, they have created one that gets the results with fuel you can buy anywhere at a low price. The new motor gives all high compression advantages, and no disadvantages. A cold motor starts with mid-summer snap in any weather. Any kind of gasoline can be used—and the motorist should remember that there are actually more power-units in standard gasoline than there are in any doped fuels. The problem, now solved, has been to utilize them. This utilizing and saving of fuel makes Hudson the most economical car per pound of weight yet produced.

"The power of the motor has been applied to exceptional performance throughout its range, rather than an extreme top speed. The Hudson will go as fast as any reasonable man will want to drive. Its acceleration is something surprising. In all phases of performance this Hudson is a leader.

"The complete line of cars is as follows: Standard coach $1285, and standard four-door sedan, $1385; custom brougham $1575; custom 7-passenger sedan $1850; custom 7-passenger phaeton $1600, all f. o. b. Detroit."

A traveling case containing $4,000 worth of jewelry, recently left standing at the curb between Sixth and Seventh avenues, New York City, remained untouched for five hours. At last one man's curiosity moved him to investigate. Upon viewing the contents he hurried the bag to the police station, where it was later claimed by a jewelry salesman.

Is Your Appetite Poor? Sleep Broken?

Port Arthur, Texas.—"I was all rundown, my appetite was poor, my sleep broken, and I was at a loss what to do to regain my health when someone advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did so, and it was really a surprise to me how quickly I began to feel better and pick up. A few bottles put me in good health and since then I go for a bottle of the 'Discovery' just as soon as I begin to go down in health. It is a wonderful tonic."—G. W. Wagon, 930-7th St. All dealers. For Miss Louise Denson

One of the prettiest courtesies extended Miss Louise Denson, popular bride of the month, was that one of Friday last on the attractive lawn of the Adam's home when Miss Louise Adams and Miss Bess Wiley entertained in their charming manner.

Two gardeniers of zinnias made the gateway to the spacious lawn, amid flowers and parrots. Seven tables were arranged for bridge. The table covers added much to this affair, each having a hand painted parrot in the center. Parrot pencils and parrot score pads graciously carried out the idea of the evening. At the conclusion of several games the hostess served on hand painted trays plates consisting of chicken salad, olives, potatoe chips, sandwiches, cheese clips and ice tea. Afterwards two pictures of the Baptist Sunday School class of 1913 were passed among the guest for them to find the bride and groom. In the excitement the hostesses entered the lawn beating a tin pan pushing a tea wagon loaded with useful things for the kitchen and presented them to the bride elect. Miss Louise carefully untying the packages assuring each gift most essential. The guest departing declared they would visit her in the near future and see how 'gracefully' she could use them.

In the cut for favors Miss Bess Du Boise won high and received a parrot card case with cards. Low fell to Mrs. Thad Epperson and received a parrot door knocker. Miss Louise Denson was presented with an embroidered bridge cover by the hostesses.

Esslinger-Hensley

A message received last week by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Esslinger states that their eldest son, Andrew Esslinger and Miss Eleanor Hensley of Anderson, Texas, were married August tenth in Seattle, Washington. Miss Hensley has taught here for the past four years and has a host of friends. She was taking special training in Washington in Home Economics. Mr. Esslinger is an employee of C. N. Green and Bros., and is a splendid young man. They will return to Cameron after another two weeks vacation and make their home in Cameron. The Herald extends congratulations and best wishes to these young people.

Birthday Party

Clayton Stone Garner celebrated his sixth birthday Wednesday, August 10, with a party on the lawn of his home on South College Ave. Games under the direction of Mrs. Dow Eplen, were enjoyed by the children until about six o'clock, when the cake with its six lighted candles claimed their attention. In the cut for cake favors fourteen little fellows were delighted with their 'find.' Ice cream cones were served to the little guests by Misses Lois Smith and Bonnelle Neimast. At the conclusion of the evening small baskets of candy were passed to the children. Stone was delighted with the pretty gifts received.

Mrs. A. V. Smith and daughter, Miss Lois of Tyler were guests of Mesdames Garner and Neimast the past week.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

FARMERS SUPPER AT BELTON ON SATURDAY

A STRONG PROGRAM IS ALSO MADE. VISIT TO NEW FRAM
BUREAU GIN PLANNED

Belton, Tex., Aug. 15.—The Farm Bureau Gin company here has extended a cordial invitation to every farmer and his family in Bell County to attend the Farmers' supper in the Belton city park, Saturday evening, August 20, 1927.

"The farmers of Belton are proud of the new gin, which is one of the best in Texas," Mr. Newt. Bingham, association member said.

"Come and bring a well filled basket (barbecue and bread will be added to your basket by the Bell County Farm Bureau) and help celebrate the opening of this new gin plant with us," he stated.

"There will be something doing every minute, as there will be some of the best speakers of the Farm Bureau Cotton Association present."

The program as announced by General Chairman Chas. Duke, follows:

4:00 o'clock—Assembly at Belton City Park, two blocks west of Belton court house.

4:15—Invocation, Rev. M. D. Council, pastor First Methodist church.

4:20—Music by Farm Bureau Gloom Chasers.

4:30—Welcome address on behalf of the city of Belton.

4:40—Welcome address on behalf of the Belton Chamber of Commerce by President Dr. J. L. Curry.

4:50—Response, T. W. Hander, president Farm Bureau Gin Co., Belton.

5:00—Address M. E. Hays, director of Field Service of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, Dallas, Texas.

5:30—Open house at the new Farm Bureau Gin plant, together with an address by Lynn Stokes of Ballinger, Texas, general manager of the Texas Farm Bureau Gin Holding Company.

6:45—Assembly back in the park and register for supper.

8:00—Music by Farm Bureau Gloom Chasers; farm stunts.

8:15—Address on Farm Relief by W. W. Pitts of Wills Point, Texas, special representative of Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association at the last session of Congress.

In connection with the program, General Chairman Charles Duke of Belton said:

"We are expecting a number of out of county guests at this meeting and also we hope to keep with us the group leaders and directors of the seven counties to be present and also every member of the bureau in the county is expected to be present and bring a full basket and also get his neighbor as Belton has an ideal park for spending an afternoon in, so let this be one time that you lay aside your work and take your family out to a real Farmers supper. The supper will be spread together as we will have about 25 men and women to help in arranging this large supper. Plates will be furnished to serve in so you will not have to bring plate or knives or forks. All you will have to do is to help supply home cooked eats."

A gasoline tax ranging from one to five cents a gallon is imposed in all but four states. Revenue collected from this source during 1926 amounted to more than $187,000,000.

Native negro tribes of Africa have known something of metallurgy since prehistoric times. In making their favorite ornaments, doubled-link chains of copper wire to be worn as anklets and armlets, they use only clumsy pairs of pincers, yet the finished product is as delicately fabricated as many present-day watch chains.
